

THE SAGEBRUSHER

1929

WYOMING SUNRISE

Oh, last night's fading moon is hanging low,
A rosy light breaks on the snow-crowned hills—
The misty valley stretches blue below—
The world awakens to a new day's thrills!

I grieve to think this glory soon will pass,
This scene of gorgeous sunrise, glowing dawn—
So let me drink this hour's brimming glass
Down to the last, last drop—ere it is gone!

If I could hold this beauty which I see
Within my heart—I should not need a creed—
I could be true to all the best in me,
In thought and word, in principle and deed!

—Stella Anne Creek.

Rock Springs High School

As a story of what we have done, a picture of our school and our organizations, a view of our activities, and a year at our High School, we present the 1928 Sagebrusher.

Within this book we have endeavored to show high school life as it is in Rock Springs, Wyoming, the last American frontier, the human melting pot of nations.

Foreword

IT HAS NOT BEEN OUR AIM IN PUTTING OUT THIS BOOK TO ACCOMPLISH ANY GREAT WORK OF JOURNALISM; BUT MERE-LY TO PROVIDE A WAY IN WHICH MEM-ORIES OF OUR SCHOOL DAYS IN THE ROCK
SPRINGS HIGH MIGHT BE REMEMBERED.

DEDICATION

TO MR. KARL F. WINCHELL, WHO BY HIS SUPPORT HAS MADE SO MANY OF OUR UNDERTAKINGS A SUCCESS, WE, THE
SENIOR CLASS OF THE ROCK SPRINGS HIGH SCHOOL, WISHING TO EXPRESS OUR AP-PRECIATION, RESPECTFULLY DEDICATE
THIS ANNUAL

CLASS HISTORY

The class of '28 entered the Rock Springs High School in 1924. We were a very excited group, anxiously anticipating the activities of the year. George Angelovic, our class president, aided us, by his leadership, in making our Freshman activities a success.

In our Sophomore year Albert Crippa was elected president. Proving his ability as a leader, he was again elected president in the Junior year. After the first semester he was admitted into the Senior Class, and Mary O'Donnell was then elected president, but on account of illness was taken from school. Her successor being Clara Daniels. The Sagebrusher, published in that year, was one of the best in the history of the High School. The Junior Prom was a gala event in honor of the Seniors of '27.

After having achieved the last year of our high school career we breathlessly, yet, sorrowfully await graduation.

CLASS HISTORY

The Class of '29 started their career in the realms of the High School with Alvin Musgrove as president, later he resigned and Jack Smith took the chair.

In the second year John Lucas was elected president. He carried on his responsibilities so well that he was re-elected in the third year.

The school paper "The Sagebrusher," published by them, and the Junior rings and pins stand out as most important events in their Junior year.

We, the Seniors, believe that this class can very successfully carry on the responsibilities of the Senior Class.

CLASS HISTORY

The Sophomore Class entered the High School with a bang in 1926. Virginia Nelson was elected president, and with the co-operation of the class they had a most successful year.

Their Sophomore year, under the leadership of Fred Adams, has been more eventful than their Freshman year.

This class promises to do much in the Junior year, and break the records made by the previous classes.

CLASS HISTORY

If you think the Freshmen are bashful and slow just step into one of their class meetings sometime. Under the leadership of Helen Deemis they have been able to do much for the High School and we're proud of them.

Much success and fame awaits this enthusiastic class.

GROS VENTRE

The National Honor Society was created in 1921, at Cicero, Illinois, by the committee of the National Association of Secondary School Principals. It was installed in the Rock Springs High School in 1924 as the Gros Ventre chapter. This Society was formed as an organization which should include the better elements of older organizations and also the activity elements which many of these organizations did not include.

The purposes of the Society are: To create enthusiasm for scholarship; to stimulate a desire to render service; to promote leadership; and to develop character. The members of the Society are elected by the faculty from the upper fifteen per cent of the class on a basis of Scholarship, Service, Leadership, and Character.

POPULARITY CONTEST

GEORGIA SIMERL,

voted as the Most Poular Girl in the Rock Springs Senior High School.

FRED KELLOGG,

voted as the Most Popular Boy in the Rock Springs Senior High School.

NORMAL TRAINING

The Normal Training Department was introduced in the Rock Springs High School in 1922.

This course has proved so popular that each year about twice as many wish to enroll as are permitted to take the course. This limitation of numbers is due to lack of room. While the department is supplied with a fine professional library and other equipment, the classroom will accommodate but fifteen students. The course is open only to Seniors and fifth-year students. This year's class is composed of:

MISS MAUDE SHOLTY, Instructor,

Anna Copyak,
Ethyle Portwood,
Louise Kamenski,
Agnes Marshall,
Margaret Francis,
Nell Young,
Marion Brack,

Alma Pedri,
Thelma Stiteler,
Anna Angelovic,
Mabel Staveran,
Jennie Lusher,
Erma Tarris,
Ethel Woodward.

The course covers a wide variety of subjects, such as will prove necessary for teaching, including Educational Psychology, School Management, and Educational Method. The most interesting part is the actual teaching in the elementary grades of the city, under the supervision of the grade teachers and the Normal Training Instructor.

The members of the class are usually energetic and have undertaken a number of activities. As an educational project, practical first aid has been studied, with Mr. Matt Marshall as instructor. As a social activity, the Sholty's Club was organized at the beginning of the year, and has continued to meet every two weeks. This activity has encouraged a friendly feeling in the class and it is hoped that the club will become a permanent organization.

G.A.L.

First Row—Clara Daniels, Oretta Bunning, Lily Berta.
Second Row—Mary Mathew, Thelma Stiteler, Betty Arnott, Agnes Marshall.

What is the G.A.L.? An organization of the High School that sponsors sports for girls.

Thelma Stiteler holds the office of president of this organization, and is assisted by eight officers who help promote various sports.

Basketball seems to be the chief sport of the G.A.L. This year the girls team was not allowed to go on visiting trips, so a tournament was conducted between the classes in the high school. The Seniors were victorious and received the orange and black basketball suits; the Sophomores running a close second.

There are many more sports which any girl may enter into, such as swimming, skating, hiking, archery, baseball, volleyball, socker, tennis and rifling. At the head of each of these sports is a girl who has charge of all the points which may be gained by taking part in these activities.

A black sweater is given to each girl who earns five hundred points during her high school career. She may earn these points through taking part in any of the sports mentioned.

Each year several social affairs are planned and carried out by the members. It is hoped that in the future the G.A.L. will go over bigger than it has in the past.

Margaret C.: "Honest? I haven't heard about it?"

Clinton: "Yet, two trains are going to Charleston."

John Soltis: "I've brought you these flowers."

Caroline T.: "How lovely and fresh they are. I believe there's some dew on them yet."

John Soltis: "Yes, a little, but I'm gonna pay up tomorrow."

Policeman: "How did the accident happen?"

Mr. Winchell: "My wife fell asleep in the back seat."

Evelyn Syme: "What is the most common wooden dessert?"

Oliver Caldwell: "I'll bite, what is it?"

Evelyn Syme: "Toothpicks."

OUR MOTTO

Finest of Home Made Pastries.

Aaron Deneley (in store): "I'd like to see something cheap in a straw hat."

Salesman: "Try this on, the mirror is at your left."

Sam Morrison: "Now, if I should offer you ten dollars—"

Jack Smith: "Now I'll tell one."

Leon: "I just saw a horse with a wooden leg."

Wayne: "Where?"

Leon: "On a merry-go-round."

We won't mention any names, but—he was so dumb he took algebra for two years and thought it was history."

George Sturholm: "I don't mind going to school, but it's the principal of the thing."

Miss Stewart: "Conjugate swim."

Vernon Ward: "Swim, swam, swum."

Miss Stewart: "Now conjugate dim."

Vernon Ward: "Aw, go on. You're making fun of me."

John Soltie: "Why do they celebrate Valentine's Day?"

George Malo: "Because of Valentino's death."

Mr. Halseth (in science class): "What is a duct?"

Oliver Cundy: "Some sort of a fowl."

Mr. Fisher (in Economics class):
"Say now, that's a simple question; why even Sam would know it if he were here."

Stranger: "They tell me the water here is rather hard; is that right?"

Vaughn B.: "Why it's so hard you have to grind it before you can drink it."

Muggs (in restaurant): "I don't mind flies in my pie, but I sure hate bed bugs."

Henry Beveridge: "Do you know Tufty Aho?"

George Dallapicola: "Yes, he's a bookkeeper."

Henry: "Yah, he's had one of mine for about two years."

REMINISCENCE

*Memory brightens o'er the past,
As when the sun concealed
Behind some cloud that near us hangs,
Shines on a distant field.*

—LONGFELLOW

Perhaps it is well that human nature deplores the present and glorifies the past. In idle moments it is comforting to permit the mind to shine back on distant fields of pleasant experiences

Thus, this memory book will serve you and prove the source of real future pleasure. For Stafford combines these elements with the artistry, the quality and the workmanship which entitle it to bear the phrase . . .

ON BEING PROUD

Perhaps no high school in the state is as entitled to be proud of itself as is Rock Springs High School. Effort, progress and accomplishment were shown in the recent high school week activities.

The University is also proud of the Rock Springs graduates, who are now making records for themselves and the University at Laramie.

Five Colleges — Liberal Arts, Education, Law, Engineering and Agriculture, and Divisions in Co-operative Agriculture, Extension and Military Science and Tactics are worthy of consideration.

Milam (in history class): "What caused the Revolutionary War?"

Vivian Cubby: "Representation without taxation."

Ole: "I almost drowned last night. The pillow slipped, the bed spread, and I fell in the spring."

Officer: "You must accompany me!"

Bruce: "Sure, what ya gonna sing?"

The same o'd story. Night, the moon, a road and a parked car. A cop came up on his motorcycle and flashed his light in the car. "No parking, you can't loaf along here," he stated.

"He's not loafing," replied a sweet voice.

The two stood on the darkened porch after the dance.

She waited.

"Love is blind," he quoted rapturously.

"Well, can't you tell where I am by feeling?" she asked peevishly.

Neil Sparks had bought two eggs and had just brought them home, when he noticed writing on them as follows: "Farmer's daughter, aged 17, like to meet bachelor, view to marriage. Communicate with—" here followed name and address.

He rushed off and telegraphed to her, asking for an interview.

Imagine his surprise on receiving the following reply: "Sorry, too late. Was married six years ago. Mother of four children."

Jim Allred: "Who is the best known man in the army?"

Ralph Gilpin: "This, Private Keep Out; I see his name everywhere."

Jim: "Oh, I don't know. How about General Admission?"

Miss Joyce had just finished giving instructions preparatory to giving an exam. "Are there any further questions?" she asked. A short silence. Then from Clarence Smith: "What time is it?"

Mr. Liddy: "Whaddya mean, work shirt?"

Coach Milam: "Keeps working up over the back of my trousers."

Olie: "What did you do when you worked in the sawmills?"

Rudy: "I came, I saw, and I sawed and sawed."

Doctor: "Hey there! What are you doing out there in the water?"

Guy Stevenson: "I'm following your instructions, sir. You said to take the medicine in water."

Stranger: "Lived here all your life?"

Huck: "Don't know, haven't died yet."

S. Wendt: "I once loved a girl and she made a fool out of me."

Kathleen Jack: "What a lasting impression some people make."

WYOMING SUNSET

The West's aflame tonight—I scarce can bear
Such beauty—It will take my heart from me
And place it in those waves of crimson there
And hold it captive in that flaming sea!

What freak of beauty can so blend with pain
The pagan lure of color to the eye?
Perhaps the ghosts of Viking death-ships play
Tonight across the border of the sky.

When darkness lowers, and my feet have trod
Their last, lone pathway in their search of light—
Oh, let my soul go out to meet its God,
Into a sky of flame like this tonight!

—Stella Anne Creek.
